

Deloitte to hire 230 graduates across Ireland

Deloitte Ireland has revealed that it plans to create 230 graduate roles across its offices in Dublin, Cork, Limerick, Galway and Belfast as part of its graduate recruitment campaign for 2020.

The firm said it also currently has vacancies for experienced-hire roles as well as undergraduate work placement and internship programmes.

“At Deloitte, it’s our people who make us who we are and help us to succeed,” said Harry Goddard, CEO of Deloitte Ireland. “Our colleagues’ individual backgrounds, skills, interests and ideas bring to the table a plethora of new and fresh thinking. Our success consistently lies in the fact that we recruit people who look at complex issues through a different lens.”

Deloitte in Ireland is calling for applicants from a wide range of disciplines including business, accounting, computer science, engineering, maths, science, law, and arts, amongst others.

Candidates can apply for roles across all service lines including audit and assurance, tax, restructuring services, risk advisory, consulting, technology consulting and financial Advisory.

People have the power

In addition, a six-to-twelve-week summer internship programme and a co-operative work placement programme are also being offered for undergraduates. Roles are available across all of Deloitte’s five offices in Ireland and in all of its service lines.

The firm has one of the highest pass rates in professional exams in Ireland, with two of its graduate colleagues achieving the highest grades in the country in the CAP1 and CAP2 examinations last year.

“At Deloitte, people have the opportunity to develop their careers and grow personally and professionally,” explained Niamh Geraghty, People and Purpose partner at Deloitte Ireland.

“We have an environment of continuous learning, with a world class leadership development programme designed to develop the future leaders of our business. In addition to this, joining Deloitte offers the opportunity to work with some of the biggest companies not only in Ireland but across the globe. We believe that the work we do, from our partners to our interns makes an impact on our clients, our people and in the wider society in which we operate. We are looking forward to welcoming a new cohort of graduate colleagues in the coming year who are keen to make such an impact too.”

Candidates can apply at www.deloitte.ie/students. Prospective applicants who are unsure as to which programme to apply for can use Find Your Fit, an online assessment tool for candidates to discover what type of graduate programme would suit them best. Details on the experienced hire positions can be found at www.deloitte.ie/careers.

*Pictured are: Luke Hyland; Niamh Byrne; Deloitte Ireland CEO Harry Goddard; and Arushi Doshi.
Image: Jason Clarke Photography*

Written by John Kennedy (john.kennedy3@boi.com)

Published: 10 September, 2019